

Seeing the Magic of Light

Claudio Silvestrin

There is beauty a beauty that is beyond opinion.

There is emotion an emotion independent from thought or judgement.

There is light not a quantum of light, but the magic of light.

There is force a force that brings the movement of light to the forefront of experience.

There is depth a depth that Joanna intends to reveal through the surface cutting.

There is a stroke that in one fraction of time outbursts the energy of a lifetime.

from the catalogue published on the occasion of the exhibition Sunlight Drawings for Arvo Pärt, Galeria Foksal, Warsaw, 2006